

A Picture Speaks a Thousand Words

The vote is getting closer for the building expansion and we want to share the needs of the school visually and with words.

Enrollment has been increasing (please note that in 2008 HCS took over preschool)

There is a great need for our middle school students to have an area designed to meet their specific learning styles and growing personalities. This area would have better system set up for student flow and collaboration without interfering in the elementary environment.

Classroom space on the west side of school, by the stairway, are 639 square feet. Pictured here are 21 5th grade students.

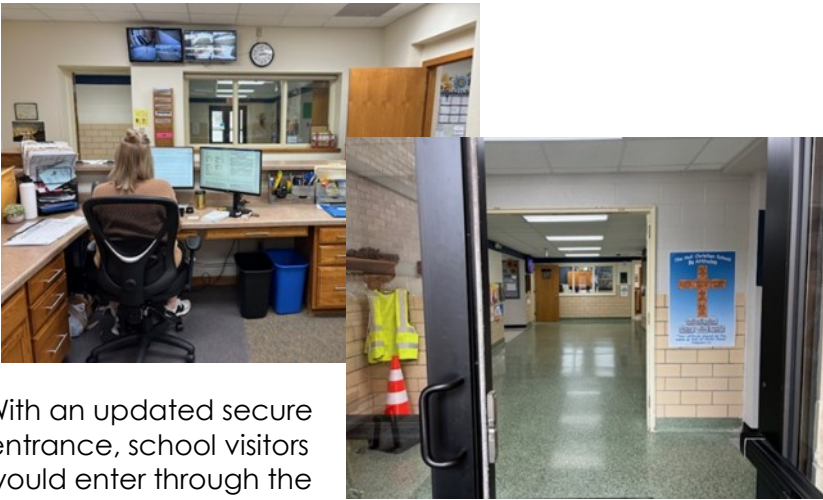

By comparison, the newest classrooms are 847 square feet. Picture here are our 21 2nd grade students.

Here you can see the downstairs room is both a classroom and an orchestra room.

Our enrichment classes are taught in the faculty room. It has a continual flow of papers from the copy machine and foot traffic of teacher gathering material during their preparation periods.

With an updated secure entrance, school visitors would enter through the office area instead of needing to talk through the hallway before receiving the assistance they need.

The speech pathologist does not have access to a private space to work with students, but instead needs to use the library.

The current gym will turn into a cafeteria allowing for cleaner classrooms, less traffic in the hallways with potential for spillage and one area to clean up food messes.

The addition would allow our after-school programs and professional development to be conducted in more appropriate spaces other than classrooms.

A larger gym would be built for indoor recess and PE classes that better accommodates our growing enrollment. A new gym will also be able to host more fans as well as multiple games for tournaments.
